

US1 Media Monitoring

The US1 Advantage.

- Delivery to thousands of traditional and online media outlets
- 30-day online media monitoring
- Search optimization for higher search results
- Premium Access Reports that provide release view details
- First Call Morning Notes (for covered public companies)
- Automatic distribution to:
 - Thomson First Call® network (public company news)
 - Trade publications
 - PR Newswire for Journalists
 - prnewswire.com

Now you get complimentary online media monitoring with all US1 newlines.

When you distribute your news release via a PR Newswire premium national newline featuring US1 distribution, you can receive complimentary online media monitoring from eWatch™, our highly regarded monitoring service that provides comprehensive media monitoring to thousands of companies and organizations.

Once you activate the service, you will automatically receive online monitoring at no additional charge for 30 days following your most recent US1 news release. The US1 Media Monitoring service allows you to view articles we find on the Web that mention your company or organization via an online reporting site. You can:

- See how your stories generate news in online media
- Monitor more than 17,000 online publications and blogs
- See your stories as soon as the same day they are published
- Forward articles to colleagues
- Save your articles and download them to create clip reports

When you activate your US1 media monitoring account, you will be provided with your username and password, allowing you to log into the eWatch reporting site where you can view results. What's more, you can modify your profile and add keywords to monitor products, issues or industry players at no additional charge.

US1. The best value in national distribution.

In addition to complimentary media monitoring, US1 newlines also include complimentary optimization for search engines with our Search Engine Visibility (SEV) service, superior reach and other value-added benefits.

To find out about ongoing eWatch monitoring or solutions that cover print publications or specific Web sites, call 888-776-0942 or your local bureau representative.

